

How will you benefit from a FACCC membership?

Professional Development

FACCC delivers relevant professional learning opportunities specifically designed to meet your needs and take your leadership to the next level. Our conferences and workshops connect you with proven best practices and ideas that you can implement on your campus. Members receive reduced pricing at some FACCC-hosted events.

Advocacy

Amplify your voice in Sacramento on issues impacting community colleges, faculty rights, and student success. FACCC's integrated approach to advocacy combines expert analysis, grassroots activity, direct lobbying, persuasive communications, and strategic campaigns—all to serve California Community College faculty and the students they support. Through annual surveys, policy discussions, and a faculty-driven agenda, FACCC ensures your priorities are heard and has been widely recognized for its impactful achievements on behalf of the entire community college system.

Networking & Mentorship

Join a community of engaged faculty from across California's community colleges, opening doors to fresh ideas, collaborations, and shared advocacy. As a FACCC member, you'll be connected with faculty leaders statewide, empowering your success at the bargaining table, on campus committees, and at board meetings. With critical issues facing community colleges, there's no better time to build your professional network, and FACCC offers a variety of opportunities to help you do just that.

Leadership Opportunities

Expand your leadership reach by serving on a FACCC committee. You'll not only sharpen your skills as a leader, but also make new professional connections that will serve you well moving forward.

The Weekly

A 24/7 news cycle can be difficult to keep up with. FACCC tracks and analyzes the news and latest developments that stand to affect higher education. At the end of the week, we distill it down into a weekly newsletter sent to you each Saturday morning.
